PIN FACTORY A BUSY PLACE

LATEST METHODS SPEED UP MANUFACTURE

The Grayling Manufacturing Co., successors to Grayling Dowel & Tie Co., is a pretty busy place these days. Since taking over the enterprise, new and modern machinery has been installed with the result that production has been greatly increased, besides new products are being made.

For the past 25 years a very superior quality of grooved, dowel pin has been made there. Now in addition, spiral grooved pins are made in any diameter and length desired. Also dowel rods, turnings, dimension stock, heading, push poles and well known pyramid point plugs that have been made there for the past 15 years.

With the addition of the new machines the mill now has a capacity of about 300,000 dowel pins daily, and this will be increased by additional machinery just as fast as a greater capacity is needed.

Manager Robert H. Gillett says besides turning out a superior article, they are able to produce them at a cost that will afford the Company an increase in profit and still be able to compete with the products of other mills. This is due to the economic method of manufacture. Needless effort in manufacture has been reduced to a minimum, and very little material is wasted. Any timber that cannot be made into merchandise product is run thru a "hog" which reduces it to a fit condition for burning in the boilers, thus saving on fuel.

Now in the future the business is now in a position to become one of our most active industries, and there are good reasons to believe that it is going to be a great addition to the industrial interest of Grayling.

Already about 30 persons are on the payroll of this plant and more will be added as needed.

The stock of this organization is owned in Grayling. Mr. Gillett has proven himself a competent manager and business man and it is because of their confidence in him that the people were glad to assist in the financing of the new company.

Even in the short time they have been operating there is the best of evidence that the stockholders are going to make good profits from their investments.

FESTIVITIES AMONG YOUNG FOLK

A jolly crowd of young people gathered at the Burden's Saturday evening at seven o'clock to enjoy a buffet supper and treasure hunt. As it grew dusk groups were arranged to pursue the treasure with one girl and two boys to each group. Each set of three was given a clue which led them to another clue and that to still another, until they reached the place where the treasure was. The hunt provided a merry chase with people running here and there trying to find clues, for the directions were often such that they could be interpreted in several ways. The treasure was found by Marguerite Hanson, "Bill" Overbeck and George Kinny. Other prizes were received by Betty Kendall, Donna Burden, Mary Brannigan, Dan Buell, John Bruun, Frank Mitchell, and Junior Hanson. Later in the evening the party enjoyed dancing to the Red Stripes at Collen's pavilion.

For the pleasure of their guest Miss Mary Brannigan, Ella and Marguerite Hanson, entertained at Sunrise Cabin on the Au Sable Tuesday afternoon and evening. The affair was strictly informal and everyone had lots of fun. Several cameras were in the group and among them a Cine moving picture camera with which many clever and amusing pictures were taken. The out of town guests were Misses Mary Brannigan of Chicago, Betty Kendall and Donna Burden of Detroit. The gentlemen were "Bill" Overbeck, Evanston, Ill., Geo. Kinny, and Byron Farnham of Los Angeles, Calif., Will Scire, John Blackley and Perry Squire of Cleveland, Ohio, Frank Michelson and Ned Mitchell, Detroit. Those from Grayling were Norma Puchelen, Emma Louise Puchelen and Will Puchelon from the Fighting Deers cabin on the river and Virginia Hanson, Helen Schumann and Junior Hanson.

Following is the program presented:

The audience was very generous in their applause for the several numbers. This was considered by many as being one of the best band concerts heard here in a long time. The people of Grayling deeply appreciate the fine courtesy offered by the band to come to town to entertain us.

182d F. A. BAND ENTERTAINED WEDNESDAY NIGHT

The 182d Field Artillery band gave a concert at the court yard Wednesday night. This fine band taxed the capacity of the band stand and gave the people a fine musical program, lasting for about two hours. The band is under direction of Prof. Sailer and is composed of a fine lot of musicians. The curbs about the court yard were packed three deep by automobiles and every lawn seat was occupied and there was a very appreciative audience.

After the concert the band was treated to a light luncheon at Shoppenhans Inn. Some musical numbers were played at the hotel, that were very pleasing to those present. The following letter was mailed the regimental commander the following morning:

The Church Has No Business meddling in Politics

The other day someone remarked to me that the business of the church was to preach the gospel and keep out of politics. We are hearing a great deal of this argument these days, and four of the leading Bishops of the solid South are being condemned for their firm stand against the election of Governor Smith for the Presidency. In fact the solid Protestant South is cut the serious questionings in the minds of the Democratic leaders these days. If the church would only mind its own business and go on preaching the Gospel, the situation would not exist, they assert.

Men are constantly forgetting the Christ who placed the little child in the midst of His disciples has put a tremendous emphasis on the value of a simple life. "Whoso deneth one of the little ones, saith it were better for him to be cast into a millstone and so be dashed to be drowned in the depths of the sea." So that the major interest of the Church must be the preaching of a Gospel that has an ethical content, the preaching of a Gospel that believes in safeguarding a life from the attacks of a selfish and vicious and lawless traffic. When the announced policies of any candidate is in this kind of dangerous to human life, and moral standards, then they have a right to so interpret the Gospel, and life up their voices in protest against a dangerous movement in the life of a great Republic. The Old Testament prophets thus stood the modern prophet dare do no less.

Thus it is that the Methodist Episcopal Church find itself opposed to the election of a man who is reported as a politically rampant W. and whose sponsor is a society held together by the chains of power and public plunder.

A "twister" passed through a part of Maple Forest Saturday evening, demolishing two new sheds for Feldhauser Bros. which they had erected for housing machinery, and damaging their harvester and other machinery. The barn was saved only by being filled to the top with hay.

O. F. Barnes lost his driving horse in a peculiar manner this week. The mare had been turned out to pasture and either became frightened or ran into a hornet's nest. The Michigan Central Railroad Company has bought "Pikes Tavern" at Topinabee and put it in first class condition so that it is a desirable place for tourists and hay fever patients to stop. The surroundings are very pleasant and as the rates have been fixed at $2.00 per day it will command a liberal patronage.

As we go to press we learn of the death of Mrs. Nels Sorenson, of Houghton Lake, which occurred Tuesday. We have been unable to learn particulars, but understand that she was having her teeth operated on and that chloroform had been administered, she passing away about half an hour after. This being the case there is no question but that her heart was affected. Our correspondent will not doubt give full particulars next week. —Roscommon News.

Substitute Spelling

A second-grade teacher was inspecting letter-card sentences made by her pupils. On one boy's desk she read this sentence: "It took him an aph." Very much surprised at the novel spelling, she inquired of the boy how he happened to spell "off" in this way. "Well," was the reply, "I run out of 'a'."

WHAT THEY ARE FOR

By THOMAS ARKLE CLARK
Dean of Men, University of Illinois.

I HAVE at one time or another in my life joined a good many things, attached myself to a considerable number of enterprises, become a member of groups or an advocate of movements. Sometimes this relationship has been developed so rapidly and so without deliberation that I have not had time seriously to consider what it was all about. I am paying dues in organizations now whose halls I have not visited since the night I was initiated, and sometimes I stop and ask myself what they are all for.

These groups of which I am in many cases so ineffective a part, I am a simple enough to realize without being thought that no man is justified in allying himself with an organization of any sort, whether or even in a part for what it will do for him, but rather for what he may be able to do for the benefit and the advancement of the group.

Grant came into my office not long ago wearing on his lapel a yellow ribbon which indicated I knew that he was an adherent of an undergraduate political party which was at that time pretty deeply involved in the throes of an election. There was an opposing organization whose colors were white indicating, I presume, purity of purpose and action.

"Why the yellow ribbon, George?" I inquired. "What are the colors?"

"Well, I hope," he confessed, "that if our party wins, as it looks to me just now pretty sure to do, some of our sophomores and juniors will be able to cop off a few fat jobs."

One belonged to a political party George thought for the sole purpose of getting out of it for himself or his friends something worth while in a social, financial, or official way. It is a point of view which is not confined to the adherents of college political parties.

Walter had just joined a fraternity and, having moved into the house, was taking a good deal of liberty with the furniture and making some of the changes as he went about the place, then the head of the house, then the best for the development of study conditions, and he thought it wise to say so to Walter.

"Well, what's a fraternity for?" was the freshman's query. He had conceived the idea of a not unusual fraternity, that a college fraternity is a place for freedom, for study, for doing as one pleases. He had not gotten the conception of responsibility and cooperation which one comes when he joins such a group. It was for his own pleasure only that he joined.

Men think of the church often in the same way. It is to them an opportunity to advance their business interests by coming through membership in it into contact with the best people. Or it may be a sort of insurance association to protect the member in the next world against the consequences of his irregularities in this world.

Too often it does not occur to us that membership in any group is primarily for the good of all rather than for profit to the individual.

Potatoes Second Choice

Young Joe, at the age of four, remarked meditatively: "I love mother and I love potatoes—but I love mother best, for she's a person, and potatoes are this a vegetable!"

DIPPING INTO SCIENCE

Mirages Are Real

A true mirage is not purely a freak of the imagination as we have often been told, but is declared to be the real image of an oasis in some distant place which is reflected from the sky as a mirror placed at the correct angle, might give off the reflection.

America Assists but Japan Hampers the Nationalist Government in China.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

JAPAN seems to be doing what it can to hamper the new Nationalist government of China, while the United States is proceeding toward recognition of that government and taking the lead in negotiations to free China from the unequal treaties that have restricted the nation. Only a few days ago the withdrawal was ordered of 1,350 American officers and marines from the "danger zones" in China, and there will be left in Shanghai and Tientsin only about 2,000 of our troops. Immediately following this, Secretary of State Kellogg dispatched a note to the Nationalist foreign minister offering to begin at once negotiations for a new treaty that will permit China to levy on imports such tariff duties as she may desire under the old treaties with various powers. China is not permitted to levy duties higher than 5 per cent ad valorem. Abolition of the privilege of extrajurisdiction and the recognition of the Nationalist government will, it is believed, come along soon in due course.

The negotiation of a new tariff treaty will not subject American goods at once to higher duties. Under the stipulations made by Secretary Kellogg, Chinese tariff autonomy would not become effective until the unequal treaties with all other nations also are abrogated. This precludes discrimination against American exports should other nations fail to scrap the old treaties.

The Nationalists have already renounced their old treaty with Japan, but the Japanese government refuses to agree to this action, holding that as revision of the pact was not accomplished within the stipulated period, it was automatically renewed for ten years. Premier Tanaka told the foreign diplomats in Tokyo that Japan was unable to accept the Nationalist demand in view of the provisions of the treaty itself and would be unable even to agree to a revision of the treaty until the Chinese government withdrew its notice of abrogation.

GOV. AL SMITH went down to a country club at Hampton Bay, Long Island, for a few days of vacation during which he expected to make much progress in the writing of his speech of acceptance which will be delivered on the evening of August 22 from the steps of the state capital at Albany. Herbert Hoover, who has been resting at his home at Palo Alto, Calif., started on a fishing and automobile trip of about a thousand miles through northern California. His acceptance address is practically completed and it will be made in the great stadium of Stanford university the evening of August 11.

Probably 100,000 persons will be present to hear Mr. Hoover, and as many will gather in Albany to listen to the words of Governor Smith. But third of the population of the United States in each case, for arrangements have been made for a hookup of ninety radio stations for the broadcasting of the speeches.

ONE of the hopes of the Democrats—the winning of Wisconsin—was stimulated by the hot fight up there between the regular Republicans and the La Follette group. The young radical senator is up for re-nomination and is opposed by G. W. Mead, mayor of Wisconsin Rapids. The real battle is over the championship for which there are three candidates—Gov. Fred Zimmerman, who is a dry and has become rather a free lance, seeks re-election; Walter Kohler, was nominated by the regular Republicans and is in the middle of the road; and Joseph D. Beck is the La Follette candidate and for Volstead act revision. Democrats believe their cause would be aided by the nomination of Beck and La Follette. The primaries are to be held on September 1. The wet sentiment in Wisconsin is notoriously strong. On the other hand, the Republicans say that the Wisconsin swing toward Smith will be stopped effectively by the prospects of a good harvest and that they are confident of carrying the badge state in November.

John J. Raskob, Democratic national chairman, has resigned as chairman of the finance committee of the General Motors corporation, because, it was said, some of the directors of the concern who are supporting Hoover thought Mr. Raskob's retention of the position would make it appear that the corporation was backing the Smith candidacy. In his letter of resignation Mr. Raskob recognized this possibility and also said his duties as national chairman would take all his time.

In one way it was a Hoover week. The Republican candidate and Senator Eliam Johnson of California ended their eight-year-old feud; Robert L. Owen, former United States senator from Oklahoma and a Democratic power, announced that he would support the Republican candidate, believing him "the best qualified man any party ever presented for President"; Senator F. M. Simmons of North Carolina, who opposed Smith's nomination, resigned as a member of the Democratic national committee without explaining his action; and officers of the Daughters of the Confederacy in California declared most of that state's members of the order, Democrats in the past, would vote for Hoover. William H. Woodin, president of the American Car and Foundry company and for years a member of the staunch Republican Union League club of New York, came out for Smith.

deal big matters that will require his official action. These include the Boulder dam investigation, big reclamation and irrigation projects, oil leases on public lands, and the Alaskan railroad. Doctor Work in introducing Mr. West expressed the hope that the latter might serve even longer than his own three-year term. In view of Doctor Work's close connection with Herbert Hoover, his remarks were interpreted as implying that he expects Mr. West to remain in the cabinet in the event of the election of Mr. Hoover.

It was stated in Washington that President Coolidge had offered the vacant secretaryship of commerce to William M. Butler of Massachusetts, former Republican national chairman.

GENERAL NOBLE and the other survivors of the Italia disaster arrived at Oslo, Norway, on the Citta di Milano and were immediately put aboard a train for Italy. An armed seaman guarded the vessel's gangplank and no one was permitted to see or talk with the Italians. With them were three Swedes who took part in the sledge expedition to search for Captain Amundsen and his comrades.

The Russian ice breaker Krassin, which rescued the Noble party, had another chance to save lives. It received wireless calls for help sent by the German motorship Monte Cervantes, which, with 1,500 passengers aboard, had struck a rock at Bell Island, Spitzbergen. The Krassin hurried to the rescue and sent divers down to examine the damage to the German boat's hull.

Bert Hassell and Parker Cramer, who had been in Rockford, Ill., in the plane Greater Rockford on their projected flight to Stockholm, Sweden, by way of Greenland and Iceland. But the plane was too heavily loaded and the aviators were forced to land on rough ground. Neither man was injured, but the machine was so badly smashed that the flight may be delayed for several weeks.

JOSE TORAL, slayer of General Carranza, confessed to the crime and pleaded to commit the crime by Manuel Trejo, an employee of the national armory in Mexico City who purchased and gave to him the pistol he used. He said he thought he was acting in the cause of the Catholic church, but now realized he had been the tool of a big business. A priest induced him to make the confession by telling him he was doing great harm to the church by keeping the truth from the people. He was released as secretary of state and went into hiding, and his associates are bitterly scored by the agrarian groups which were supporters of Obregon. The agrarians are demanding that "all labor influences" be removed from the national government, holding them morally responsible for the assassination. They do not even ask the death penalty for Toral. During the week the Obregonista leaders were trying to determine who should become President on December 1. It seemed probable that either President Calles would be asked to succeed Obregon as provisional President under certain constitutional arrangements which might be made of Luis Adon Suenz, governor of Nuevo Leon, would be favored.

REV. HON. RANDALL THOMAS DAVIDSON, archbishop of Canterbury and as such primate of the Church of England, has announced his resignation, which will take effect on November 12. He has been in poor health for several years, but the real reason for his action was his recent failure to obtain adoption by the house of commons of the revised book of common prayer. Doctor Davidson was seventy years old and had been primate since 1921. He always has been a keen interest in industrial and economic affairs. It was presumed he would be succeeded by the archbishop of York.

DURING a debate on unemployment, Prime Minister Baldwin of England told the house of commons that the unemployment problem was not a new one, but a constant one, and that it was a problem of the world, not of any one country.

GENE TUNNEY is to retire as the unbeaten heavyweight champion. In his last fight, with Tom Heeney of New Zealand, he scored a technical knockout in the eleventh round. The referee stopped the battle, Heeney having been knocked unconscious by the tenth and being at Gene's mercy. It was estimated that Tex Rickard, the promoter, lost $400,000 by the contest.

THE GENEROUS OPPONENT

By THOMAS ARKLE CLARK
Dean of Men, University of Illinois.

It was Abraham Lincoln who used to say that one never is anything excepting to an enemy. To an opponent everything that is true is possible—truthfully so. One only needs his own case stronger, he held, when he admitted that the opposing side had merit, but showed that in spite of its claim to attention his own was the stronger.

There were some hot political contests in our community last spring, and though I heard much discussion I cannot now recall anything complimentary that was said by any candidate relative to his opponent. From the standpoint of all the speakers I heard the opposing candidates were all little better than thieves and liars.

The case of Jeff Fowler of Throckmorton, Texas, however, as given in a recent issue of the New York Sun, is different. He has a lot of interesting things to say both of himself and of his opponents. The latter which he writes to his constituents is extremely generous to the other candidates and reveals the fact that he knows his political opponents.

Having been strongly solicited by his wife, I hereby announce my candidacy for the office of county attorney. I shall be opposed in this race by two of our best-known citizens, Mr. B. F. Reynolds and Mr. James H. Wright. Concerning them, I shall have nothing to say except that they are both able and honorable men deserving of your confidence and support.

Mr. Reynolds came to Throckmorton for county before most of us were born and he represented the last outpost of civilization and law far out on the edge of the wild frontier. But for such a pioneer he who came here when every step was attended by dangers and existence meant a battle and a chance, there would be no Throckmorton today and no county attorney's office to fill. For his labor and sacrifice we are all grateful. A life of noble deeds and great achievements recommends him to the voters. He is my friend and I love him. I have served for the past year and am at present his assistant.

Mr. Wright is a native son and was born in the country he seeks to serve. He is capable and qualified to fill the office and is deserving of the trust he asks you to bestow. He, also, is my friend, and should you elect him as your county attorney, I am sure you each would not be mis-served.

As for myself, I am an Arkansas hill-billy, born and raised in the back mountains, outside the dog on Sunday morning to keep from buying his dog washed did my spunking. I never saw a train until I was 12 and was almost grown before I learned that Republicans wanted an eight foot like people.

Have learned with a bull-tongue plow, taught school, practiced law, and am a successful mechanic, having worked a right smart around a no-account hill, come to Texas two years ago and entered the local little in Throckmorton county. I want the office because I think I can make a thing out of it and will promise, if elected, to try and make thieves and bootleggers think hell ain't forty feet from the courthouse.

So I expect to spend the time between now and the election kissing babies, complimenting the ladies' waists and bringing on the old man's crop.

Your vote and influence will be appreciated.
